

iCoders is first “Tech Club” of Dr. B.C. Roy Engineering College, Durgapur. It is established by College Students with help of Principal, H.O.D. and other Professors. We are recognized by our college and some well-known organizations.

We are involved in following activities: -

- Start a programming culture in our college. And for that we will try to organize coding competition on regular basis i.e., once every month for practice and once a year we will organize a mega coding competition like “Hackathon” in our college. Winners of each competition (both monthly and yearly) will get prizes.
- Create a “Tech Environment” in our college and for that we will organize regular technical events (like Open Source, Latest Technologies, Current Market Trends/Demands and etc.) and workshops by Experts of different Organization.
- Work on different projects together and support startups on our campus.
- And many more things.

Currently we are Supported by following Organizations (and more to added): -

- Microsoft: - Our Technology Partner
- Mozilla: - Our Open Source Partner
- HackerEarth: - Our Online Coding Partner
